

VIDEO OF THE WEEK

This week the focus is on medicine, specifically, how to get into medicine in the UK medical schools. David Lennon is an interviewer on the selection panel for Newcastle University's medical school, which is one of the largest in the UK and globally recognized as a top clinical program. Newcastle is a member of the prestigious Russell Group of universities. If you plan to study medicine and would like to apply in the UK, the information that David shares here is invaluable. David is available to answer questions, as well, for students who are serious about pursuing medicine in the UK.

Click a title
to watch

How to get into Medicine with David Lemon

Heidi Sulcas

+27 82 080 0475

heidi@learnersjourney.co.za